Observations...

By the Editor

Saturday, October 8, is REA day in Bay St. Louis. The members of the Coast Electric Power Association will hold their annual meeting in the Bay High School gymnasium on that date. We will have many visitors with us on this occasion, and we should exert every effort to make their stay pleasant. . . . go out of your way to show the true spirit of hospitality. . . . these people are your neighbors. . . . they live in the rural sections of Hancock, Pearl River and Harrison counties. . . . it is an opportunity to encourage them to return to Bay St. Louis at times other than the day they hold their annual meeting. . . . remember the rural section of Hancock County is the trade area for the Bay St. Louis merchants. . . . all of our people are interested in building a bigger and better county. . . . show them your willingness. . . . the Whittington-Boggs bill, which provides assistance to public bodies for surveys and future planning has been passed by the Congress. . . . we need much planning for the future in Bay St. Louis. . . . streets. . . . drainage. . . . water works. . . . garbage disposal. . . . sewerage. . . . under the bill the money is loaned to the municipality to be repaid without interest. . . . it is time to lay some plans for the rebuilding of Bay St. Louis. . . . it is a man size job. . . . and, of course, definite plans should be made. . . . just a thought to pass on to our commissioners. . . . October 1 to 8 is National Newspaper Week. . . . "Freedom goes where the newspaper goes." is the national slogan. . . . how fortunate we are in this country to have a free press and the many other freedoms. . . . think of the communist dominated countries, and then sit down and visualize how you would like to live under such conditions. . . . it is also suggested that we adopt a program of "Rediscovering your hometown." . . . what a swell idea. . . . how fitting it would be for this to happen in Bay St. Louis. . . . it only takes cooperation and the meeting of the minds of those interested in the future of Bay St. Louis. . . . the budget for Hancock County for the fiscal year 1949-50 is published in this issue of The Echo. . . . the city budget will be published next week. . . . the tax levy for this year has been reduced one half mill. . . . the commissioners have stated that the levy could have been reduced three mills under normal conditions. . . . they have earmarked 2 1/2 mills of the tax levy to care for the indebtedness of the previous administration which has not yet all been paid. . . . the board of supervisors has completed the fill for the roadway on the beach and the total expenditure to date will not exceed $10,500.00. . . . they have done a splendid job on this project and should be complimented. . . . there is yet some more fill to be put in to slope the back fill of the roadway and, of course, a shell course is to be put over the roadway for a temporary road. . . . the storm period is practically passed and the fill should be completed, and as soon as possible the shell base should be put in. . . . when the weather is dry the roadway is passable under the present conditions, but what a mess we have when it's wet. . . . do as good a job on the balance of the program as you have on what you have completed and you will certainly be due another tip of the hat. . . . we hear expressions of thanks from Bay Hi band members to Mr. and Mrs. L. Caffery of Waveland for the new bell lyre recently donated.

Coast Electric Power Association Members To Hear Informative Speech and Reports

"Rebecca" Opens At Little Theatre For 3 Night Run

"Rebecca," a 3 act play by Daphne De Maurier is the current production of Bay St. Louis Little Theatre. The play opened Wednesday night at the Little Theatre Play house on Boardman street, and will run through Saturday. Curtain time is 8 p. m.

This, an intensely dramatic play, is set in pre war England. The entire action takes place in the hall of Manderly, the home of aristocrat Maxim de Winter, in Cornwall.

The story is one of suspense, full of tension and dramatic undertones. It is a portrayal of how the dead can dominate the living.

The memory of Rebecca, the deceased wife of Maxim de Winter, turns the household staff at Manderly against the new Mrs. de Winter and makes life miserable for her.

An ironic, half-just solution is worked out for the dilemma.

The cast includes Rev. Charles Johnson as Frith, Mrs. Eleanor Sabath as Beatrice Lacy, Donald Cole as Major Giles Lacy, Lt. Charles MacKen as Frank Crawley, Mrs. William Smith as Alice, a maid, Phillip Allison as Maxim de Winter, Hope Crasto as Mrs. de Winter, Johann Craft as Mrs. Danvers, Lt. William Freeman as Jack Favell, Dr. Harold Keefe as Colonel Jolyan, William Smith as William Tabb, and Mark Solomon as Robert.

MRS. ANNA TRAPANI KILLED IN LOUISIANA AUTOMOBILE WRECK

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Spirolo Trapani, who died in an automobile accident Tuesday, were held Thursday morning at 10:30 o'clock from the Lamana-Panno-Fallo funeral home in New Orleans. Service was at the St. Louis Cathedral with interment in the Greenwood Cemetery.

Mrs. Trapani, a native of Italy and a resident of Bay St. Louis for 14 years, was killed instantly 14 miles south of Baton Rouge when the station wagon which she was driving left the highway, slid on the wet shoulder and overturned. With her at the time of the accident was her aunt, Mrs. Leon Badali. Mrs. Badali sustained bruises on her shoulder and head and was treated at the Baton Rouge General hospital. They were enroute to Alexandria to visit relatives.

The deceased was the wife of Anthony Trapani, operator of the Knock Knock Club on the beach. She is survived by her son, Anthony, Jr.; her step-son, Frank; her mother, Josephine Badali. She was the sister of Amerigo Spirolo, Charles Cortese, Mrs. J. Costello, Jr., and Mrs. Fred Fayard, Jr.

New Priest Named

Rev. Father Jerry Harnett, assistant pastor Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic church left Tuesday for Biloxi where he assumes the assistant pastorate of the Church of the Nativity.

Father Harnett will be succeeded here by Father Patrick Grant.

An interesting, informative speech, fine music, and important business matters will occupy the time and attention of the rural folks who attend the second annual meeting of the members of the Coast Electric Power Association Saturday, October 8, according to H. H. Shattuck, manager.

Lewis Ivy Jones, speaker for the occasion, has been director of the Mississippi Extension service since 1941, and is therefore fully familiar with rural life, its problems, and the valuable assistance farmers have received through rural electrification.

INCREASED DIVERSITY

A member of the Extension Service for some 15 years, Mr. Jones has worked diligently for the benefit of the rural people. During his tenure as director the personnel in Mississippi has increased from 375 to 637 workers. Greater diversity has been given the extension program by the addition of new projects, such as pasture, consumer education, meat curing, refrigeration, rural architecture, and increased force in forestry and marketing.

Born and reared on a Greene County farm, Mr. Jones was the youngest of nine children. He studied at Mississippi State college, took his B. S. in agriculture, and his master's degree in agronomy and economics at Cornell university.

SWAN AND BAND

Mr. Jones is a Mason, a member of the Baptist church, and of the Extension fraternity, Epsilon Sigma Phi. He was president of the Mississippi State Alumni association in 1929 and 1930, is married and has one son, Louis, age 15.

Also included on the program for Saturday's meeting is Jimmy Swan and his Blue Sky Boys, radio and recording artists. This group, composed of rhythm guitar, guitar, violin, saxophone and drums, and featuring a versatile vocalist, will supply music at regular intervals throughout the day.

VALUABLE PRIZES

Furthermore prizes of no mean value will be awarded, Mr. Shattuck declared.

Much of the day will be taken up with business. There will be reports on the business of the previous year, reports on future planning, and the election of nine directors to serve for the next year.

"It will be a day of good will—a day when, like R. E. A. administrator Claude Wickard suggested, the members can congratulate themselves on a job well done," Mr. Shattuck added.

LOCALS INVITED

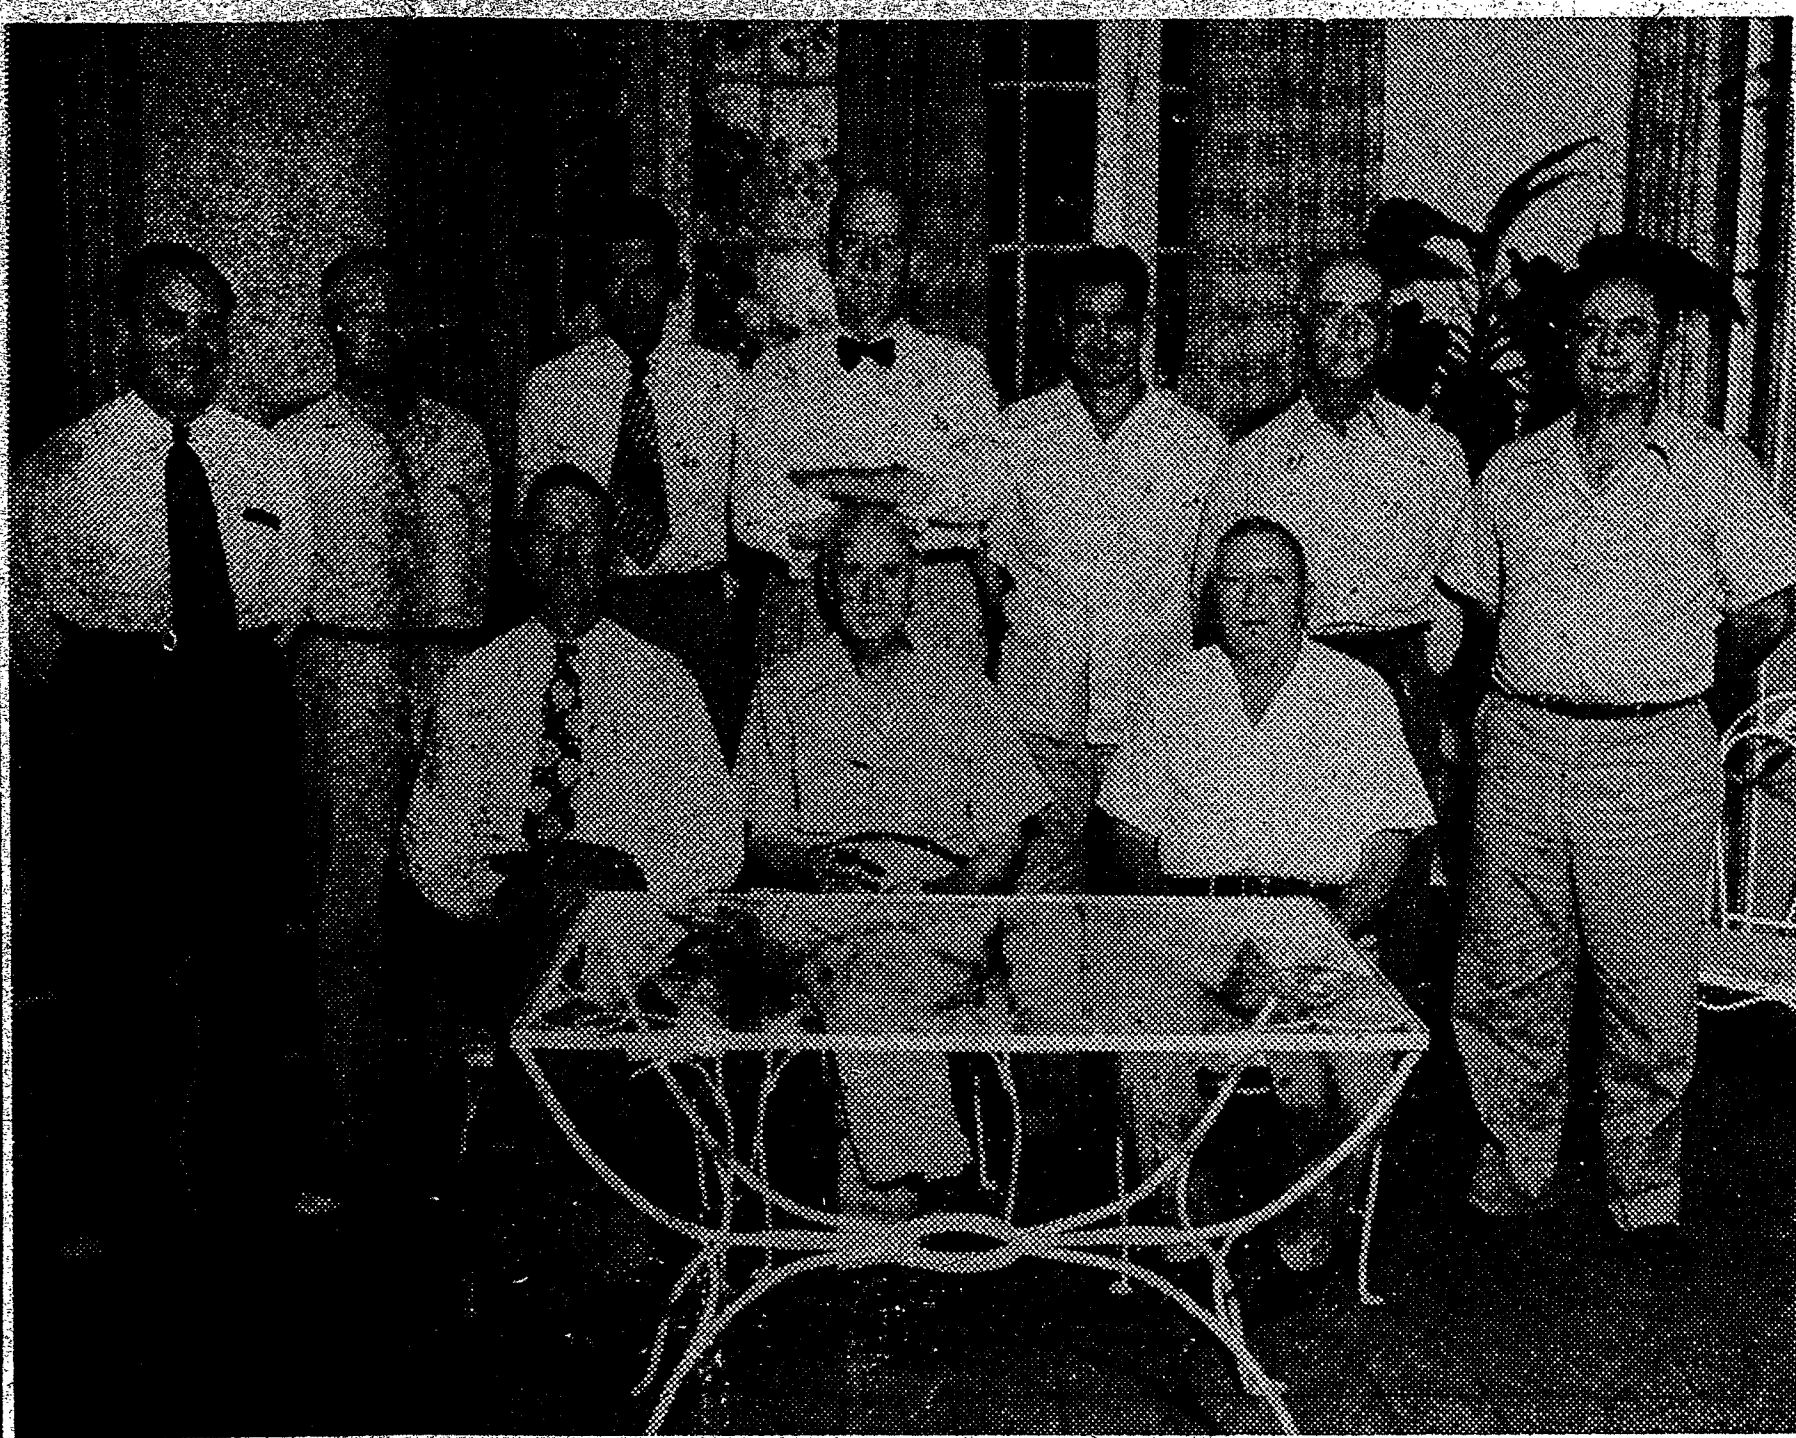

At the electrical appliance show which will be open to the urban people Friday, October 7, music will be furnished by Charles Banderet Jr. and his orchestra. The exhibit will be in the Bay Hi gym, the program starts at 8 o'clock.

Following the program prizes will be awarded by the appliance dealers participating in the exhibit. In order to be eligible for these prizes spectators must register at the booths. The show will end about 9 o'clock.

Bay High gym will be open at 5 p. m. for local residents who wish to inspect the displays.

Masonic Meeting Slated

Bay St. Louis Lodge Number 429 F. and A. M. will hold their regular meeting Tuesday, October 11 at 8 p. m. at the Masonic Temple.

Hancock Has One-Of State's Lowest Maternal Death Rates

"During the year 1948 Hancock County was among the 10 counties in the state with the lowest maternal deaths rate," stated Dr. C. M. Shipp, director of the Hancock County health department.

It is interesting to note that during the 25 year period 1924 to 1948 the maternal death rate in Mississippi has been greatly reduced, from 9.4 to 2.7. During the same 25 year period the infant death rate in Mississippi has also been reduced considerably, from 71.4 in 1924 to 37.8 in 1948. However, there has been only a slight improvement in the rate for infant deaths (under one month).

Good prenatal care can do much toward preventing maternal deaths, infant deaths, premature births and stillbirths. Early prenatal care by your physician means seeing your physician before the third month of pregnancy. With early prenatal care and good diet during pregnancy, we can prevent many of the deaths which occur in Mississippi among mothers and children.

Call by your health department for free literature on prenatal care and child care.

ROCKS LOSE THREE PLAY TOUGH MCGILL

The spirits of the St. Stanislaus Rockchaws are slightly low this week, as they have lost their first three games, the last one going 13-0 in favor of St. Aloysius. Foley and Redemptorist were the teams which took the measure of the Rocks in their other two starts.

Last night at Mobile, St. Stanislaus met a strong McGill team which had previously walloped Picayune and Pascagoula. (No score can be given here since the game was going to press while the game was being played.) Coach Pete Burge said that he expected a tough battle with the heavier, more experienced club.

As game time neared there were three doubtful starters on the team. Luke Caruso, the Rockchaws' only experienced linemen, sprained his ankle last week and it was doubtful whether Coach Burge would be able to use him. Left halfback Jerry Rooney had a charley horse in his side and would possibly not play. The other doubtful man was second string left halfback Barba who was out with an infected foot.

BAY HIGH PREPARES FOR TOUGHEST GAME

Bay High, fresh from a 26-16 victory over Perkinston, is prepping for what Coach Ellis Guillory says is going to be their toughest game. They meet Pass Christian this Friday night at 8 p. m. at Pass Christian High field.

Guillory and assistant coach Ben Nobles were pleased with the performance of their charges in the Perkinston battle. Left halfback Prevost had a busy night scoring two touchdowns on runs of 75 and 35 yards. Another score was turned in by fullback Schultz and the final tally was made on a pass from Price, the quarterback, to end Dawsey.

Other standouts in the line were Clyde Favre at tackle and Bobby Clapp at end.

Commissioners Reduce City Tax Levy Half Mill; Mayor Raps Reduction

The city tax levy was reduced one half mill by the Commission Council of the City of Bay St. Louis in regular session this week. The reduction brings the levy from 46 to 45 1/2 mills for the fiscal year ending September 30, 1950.

"We feel if it were not for some $23,000 still outstanding on the debt incurred by the previous administration and for payment of which the council has appropriated a levy of two and one half mills, the levy could be reduced by some 3 mills," J. Cyril Glover, commissioner of finance said.

The debt inherited by the present administration was about $65,000.

"The two and a half mills set aside will not take care of this $23,000 back debt," Commissioner Glover continued, "but at this time so large amount could be allocated for this purpose without raising the levy beyond 46 mills."

The 45 1/2 mill levy as set by the council breaks down as follows: general and general improvement, 10 mills; school, 16 mills; water, 1 mill; sinking bond, 10 mills; police, 3 mills; firemen, 2 mills; special improvements, 1/2 mill; hospital 1/2 mill; for payment of part of the outstanding legal obligations incurred by the former mayor and board of commissioners prior to January 3, 1949, 2 1/2 mills.

The levy for 1950 varies from the levy of 1943 on three items only. Last year the sinking bond was allotted, 12 mills police and firemen together were allotted 3 mills; and the special improvements were allotted 4 mills.

The half mill allotted special improvements this year will go for a new city truck.

Despite the half mill cut in the tax levy, the total budget for 1950 exceeds the 1949 budget by some $20,000. Last year the budget amounted to $185,261.50. This year it is $205,287.50. Of this amount $44,610 has been allowed the city fund for administrative expenses as compared to $31,310 last year.

The vote for reduction of the tax levy was two to one. Mayor Warren Carver opposed the reduction saying: "In my opinion the city is in no condition financially to reduce the rate of millage, and a reduction of one half mill as compared with the previous levy is, I think, contrary to sound business management."

Bay High Holds Pre-Game Parade For Perkinston Tilt

The Bay High Booster Club put on a pre-game parade last Friday in order to whip up spirit for the Perkinston-Bay High game which took place that night.

Led by the band which gave a fine showing during halftime, some 15 or 20 decorated automobiles made their way through the town to the accompaniment of cheers and music.

Starting at 7 o'clock the parade arrived at the stadium shortly before game time.

Perhaps 100 cars filled with friends and boosters of Bay High followed the procession.

Mrs. Kimmel Has Hands Full With Granddaughters

Mrs. Edward Kimmel, Sr., has raised two fine sons but she has no time for grandsons. Her life is pretty full entertaining her ten granddaughters.

Mrs. Kimmel, the former Miss Laura Hatfield of Bradford, Penn., married Mr. Kimmel, who by-the-way is formerly from Michigan, on October 6, 1905 and lived in Bogalusa, La., for two years. From there they came to Bay St. Louis and liked it, took up permanent residence here, three daughters all of whom are now married and have children of their own.

Her grandchildren are standing left to right: Beverly Banderet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Banderet, Bay St. Louis; Hazel Trammel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. White, New Orleans. Seated: Linda Ann Kimmel, Yvonne Kimmel, Gloria Jean Kimmel, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kimmel, Jr.; Carol Sue Banderet and Gail Banderet, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Banderet. Front row: Jennifer Kimmel, daughter of James Kimmel, Dian Banderet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Karl Banderet; Cynthia Kimmel daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kimmel, Jr.

WELCOME COAST ELECTRIC

We extend a welcome to the members of the Coast Electric Power Association and hope that their visit to Bay St. Louis will be a pleasant as well as a profitable one. The members, who are the Coast Electric Power Association itself, can feel justly proud of their achievements in the past year, and in the years gone by since its organization.

To begin with, what does rural electrification mean to the average farmer in this area? What changes in his way of living has it brought about? What future blessings are still to be realized?

These questions can best be answered by looking around us and talking to people who have known what it is to be with or without electricity. They will tell you that electric power on the farm means freedom from the drudgery of carrying water, of bringing lanterns into the barn, of milking by hand, and all the other little tasks which eat up the time and energy of a man and makes farm work slow and tiresome.

The advent of electricity has brought more money to the rural people. It has enabled them to spend the time saved through the use of milking machines, hot water heaters, milk coolers, water pumps, and other aids for producing more marketable crops. Thus they can put all their energies into this task instead of wearing themselves out on things that add nothing to the bankroll.

Electricity also enables these people to have city comforts and by the same token provides the time in which to enjoy them.

And lastly, rural electrification has contributed to one of the most precious of all things, the health and well-being of the children. For this is the greatest crop of all, one which will determine this section's achievements in the years to come.

So we say WELCOME and CONGRATULATIONS to the farmers, dairymen, tung growers, cattle raisers, timber growers, and all the others who have made the Coast Electric Power Association what it is today. Twelve years have produced startling improvements. The association is at present one of the most successful rural electrification cooperatives in the United States. However, it must not stop here. There is much work still to be done and we urge its members to greater heights individually and cooperatively.

—ERNEST W. DRACKETT

GOOD CITIZENSHIP

Good citizenship comes to the fore as a fight develops to eliminate slot machines from Hancock county, Mississippi.

The county, which has figured in the news recently as the result of questionable financial transactions by some of its officials, has been plagued with an abundance of slot machines. The illegal devices have operated openly in many establishments.

Operation of the "one-armed bandits" is evidence per se of lax law enforcement. Citizens report that they sought help from the officers, but received little.

Finally, one citizen took action. He is Leo Seal of Bay St. Louis, president of the Hancock County Bank. As a private citizen, he signed a suit that charges the operators of 30 establishments with creating a nuisance.

"This slot machine nuisance has become so rotten it has to go," Mr. Seal asserted. "I signed 30 bills of complaint seeking injunctions to stop the slots. I think we'll get rid of them. Were not giving up this fight until we've won it."

More power to Mr. Seal! Hancock county and the rest of this country can use more citizens like him—citizens who will take the initiative to improve conditions, even in the face of non-co-operative law enforcement officers.—N. O. States, Tuesday, Sept. 20.

LETTERS

Dull Day, Bright Idea

To The Editor:

Last week I broke into print because it was a rainy day and I had little else to do. Someone must have read the article as I have been besieged by those who want to know what I think should be done. Some said "Talk is easy—what can we do?"

Let's see what we can do.

Is it not a fact that every week-end thousands of automobiles leave New Orleans loaded with people trying to find a place where they can have some fun? Most of these people pass through Bay St. Louis and go on to Gulfport and Biloxi to enjoy the beach, hotel accommodations, etc. Yet those towns have shown about as little enterprise as we have. There is nothing of a substantial nature to amuse children and slot machines are about the only attractions for the adults. In their failure to have enterprise is our golden opportunity.

Our new Yacht Club is fine, or will be when completed, but it will not cater to or attract the tourist. But a similar amount of money spent improving the beach between the bridges would give entertainment to thousands. I am not an engineer but it is my guess that for less than fifty thousand dollars we could put up a heavy retaining wall of creosoted piles and timbers, pump in the sand to fill it up, erect concessions, dressing rooms for bathers, hot dog stands, etc. We could build a miniature Coney Island. Properly managed the concessions would eventually pay back every dollar invested in the improvement and every business house in town would benefit. It would create employment for the people and that is needed right now.

If that location should be objectionable then there is another spot on down the beach. A lot with a 100 foot front widening out to 300 feet and several hundred feet deep. It would be ideal for this purpose if a pier and beach were built in front to afford swimming, boating, etc. All we need do is start something like this. Other people who want to make money will come along and invest to get in on the ground floor. The amusement, entertainment and feeding business is the largest business there is, and it will make money.

We need a truck market center here to stimulate country people to raise and bring vegetables, poultry, butter, and other produce to this town. They sell their products and in turn spend their money here. The strawberry business would undoubtedly be fine. All of these things are worth while, but why overlook our biggest crop—the visitor who wants to come here to have fun and spend his money.

This is the second time I have broken into print. Perhaps if we can get enough argument started we will provoke somebody into taking the lead, raising some money and getting this thing started.

—LOUIS SCHWALL

Claim It Now

To The Editor:

Listening to the 10 p. m. news broadcast over W. W. L. Monday night, among other news items from Washington was a report of the passage by the House of an appropriation bill covering $1,000,000 for emergency work in various places should a recession occur.

It occurs to me that Bay St. Louis should lose no time in making a claim for a few million of this appropriation to take care of what is of paramount importance to us all—a new bridge and beach roadway.

In my opinion, the Echo would be an admirable medium to start publicity in this direction.

—W. T. O'Brien

Forty-one feet from stem to stern this 5-ton oil truck recently purchased by the Cue Oil Co., is the highest capacity vehicle in the county. It carries a load of 5000 gallons and has a gross weight of 50,000 pounds. With five forward gears and one reverse this monstrous carrier will haul gasoline and kerosene from the refinery at Norco, La. to distribution points at Picayune and Bay St. Louis. Operator of the new truck will be John Scianna who has had some 7 years' experience with large vehicles. The truck, an International KB 10, was purchased from W. A. McDonald & Sons, and is allowed on the road only since the State Legislature recently increased truck capacity from 3000 gallons to the present 5000. Pictured in front of the vehicle are John McDonald and Alvin Genin.

SUSAN WEIGAND HAS SECOND BIRTHDAY

Susan Weigand, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Weigand, celebrated her second birthday Sunday at the home of her parents.

The party was given on the lawn of the home and the color scheme of pink and green was carried out in table decorations. The large birthday cake was iced in pink and green and two pink candles were lighted on the cake. Children attending the party were "Ripple" Rauch, Mile Seghers, Lee Laurent, Rosalind Cabibi, Madeline Perre and Lexie Assenheimer.

Also guests at the party were Mrs. E. Borden and Mrs. R. L. Bremer, mother and aunt of Mrs. Weigand; Mr. and Mrs. L. Laurent, Dr. and Mrs. J. Cabibi and Marguerite Resquet all of New Orleans.

CELEBRATES THIRD BIRTHDAY TUESDAY

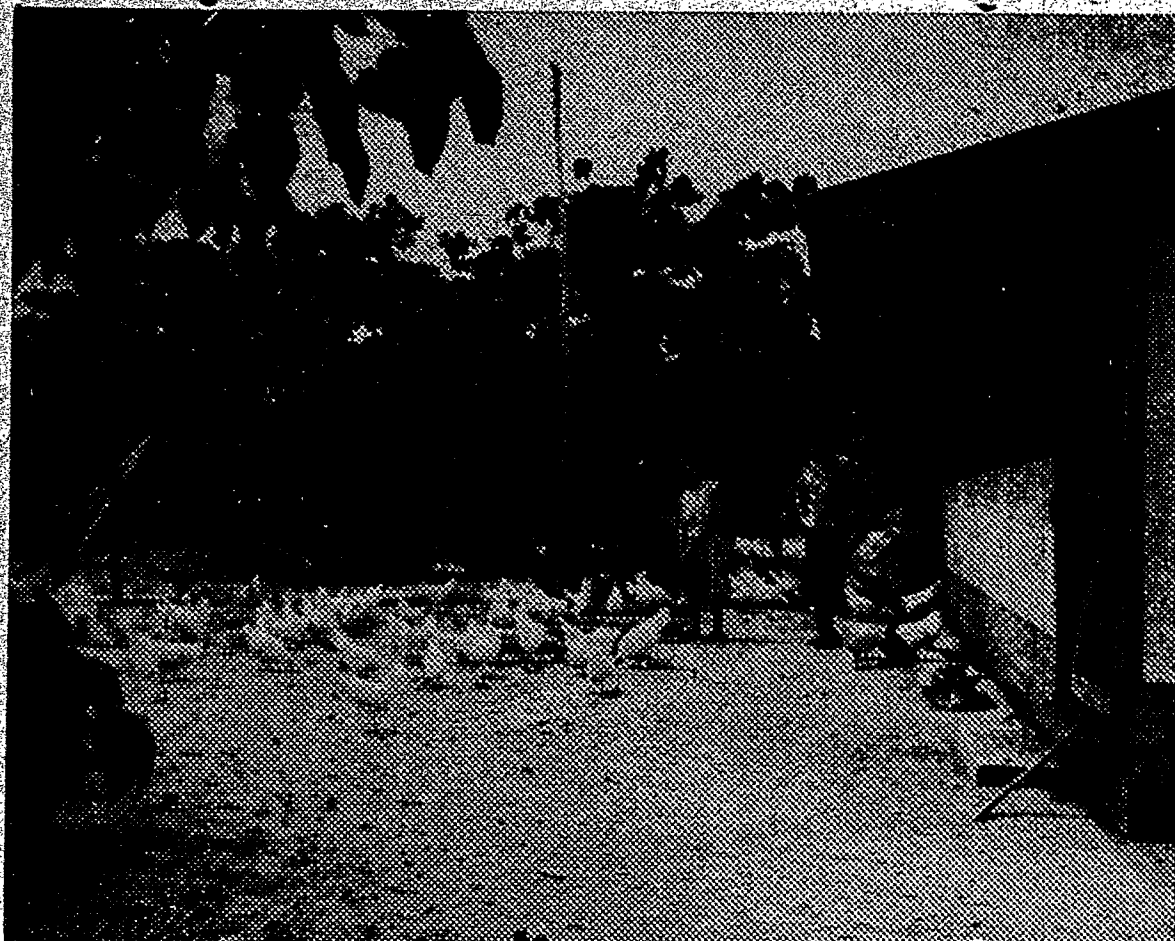

Dottie June Estapa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Estapa, celebrated her third birthday Tuesday, September 27, with a party at the home of her parents.

There was a large birthday cake iced in pink and green.

The children attending were Judy and Jerry Taconi, P. J. Collier, Scott Favre, Ursula and Paula Favre, J. D. Rutherford, Jr., Jimmy Rutherford, David and Genie Favre, Doris Ann Rauch, Mile Seghers, Lee Laurent, Rosalind Cabibi, Madeline Perre and Lexie Assenheimer.

Also guests at the party were Mrs. E. Borden and Mrs. R. L. Bremer, mother and aunt of Mrs. Weigand; Mr. and Mrs. L. Laurent, Dr. and Mrs. J. Cabibi and Marguerite Resquet all of New Orleans.

Planning And Hard Work Bring Wittorfs Success

Katherine and Alfred Wittorf of Leetown community feed a small group of their flock of 1000 White Leghorns which have been producing seven crates of eggs a day when this picture was taken.

By good planning and hard work the Wittorfs of Leetown community have made a success of their farm operations.

Formerly in the grocery business in Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Wittorf and their only son, Alfred, came to Mississippi in 1943. During 1947 Mr. Wittorf died.

Katherine Wittorf and Alfred carried on the work and achieved outstanding results with tung, cattle, and chickens on their 345 acre farm. There are forty head of beef cattle with a registered polled Hereford bull. The animals graze between the tung trees. This is not harmful since the trees are of large enough size not to be hurt.

On 100 acres of pasture, the Wittorfs have Alice Clover, Lespedeza, Sudan and White Dutch Clover. Calves that were fed on this rich pasture were sold for an average of $114 per head. The native calves of about the same age sell for around $50.

Six month old hogs that were grazed on White Dutch Clover and Crimson Clover, put in last fall, were 180 pounds when sold.

Their dairy cows, too, showed the results of good grazing. When put on White Dutch Clover they doubled their milk production. This is proof enough that a good pasture improvement pays off in cold cash.

The chickens on the place are White Leghorns. There are 1000, of which more than half are now laying. From these the Wittorfs gather seven crates of eggs a week. During the time that the chickens are put on lights 80 per cent are laying. Feeds for their 1000 birds consists of eight sacks of mash and four sacks of grain a week. With the help of rural electrification the Wittorfs were able to make their own brooders.

Besides all this there are approximately 200 acres of tung trees. These trees are very large and every one is weighted down with nuts.

Walking around the Wittorf farm makes one think of that old phrase, "The Land of Plenty." That's exactly what these people have made of their place—"A Land of Plenty."

COUNTY AGENTS NOTES

Crimson Clover Is Good For Late Winter Grazing Of All Livestock

By Howard Simmons

CRIMSON CLOVER

Crimson is one of the best clovers in Mississippi for late winter and early spring grazing. It fills a gap between oat grazing and white Dutch Clover in the early spring, furnishing grazing before other clovers.

Grazing crimson clover is good for all livestock. This clover will do well either alone or in combination with oats, or ryegrass, kudzu, Sericea lespedeza or pasture sod.

Best land for crimson clover is well drained terrace or hill land. It will fail on low wet land.

Preparation of a good seedbed is necessary to get a good stand and good growth. Land should be disked several times at two-week intervals before planting.

Plenty of minerals are necessary for crimson clover. Average fertilizer needs per acre are 1000 pounds of slag or one ton of lime, 300 to 500 pounds of phosphate and 100 pounds of potash. A soil test will show accurately the amounts needed.

If ryegrass or oats are planted with crimson, use 20 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre. If minerals or nitrate cannot be purchased, use 500 pounds of 6-8-8 or 5-10-5 mixed fertilizer per acre.

SAVE CORN FROM WEEVILS

Corn weevils cause Mississippi farmers to lose from five to ten million dollars each year. If not protected from weevils, corn in south Mississippi is almost a total loss by spring.

Practical way to save corn from weevil damage is to make the crib tight by lining it, and to fumigate.

Cribs can be lined with 15-pound asphalted building felt, light-weight roofing or orange-labeled sisalcraft building paper. Make the crib as near air tight as possible on floors and walls.

Full instructions for lining a crib can be obtained from the county agent.

After the crib has been cleared out, the walls and floor should be sprayed with a 2 percent DDT spray, using approximately 2 gallons of spray to each 1,000 square feet of walls space. The spray is made by mixing 1 pound of 50 percent DDT to 3 gallons of water.

Do not store wet or improperly cured corn in a lined crib.

When the corn has been stored in the lined crib, it should be fumigated. Carbon bisulphide is a suitable fumigant, using 10 pounds to each 1,000 cubic feet of corn.

Be careful if carbon bisulphide is used, since the material is highly inflammable. Keep all fires such as lighted cigarettes and lanterns at a safe distance for several days after fumigation.

If there is danger of fire, a mixture of 3 parts ethylene dichloride and 1 part carbon tetrachloride should be used at the rate of about 30 pounds for each 1,000 cubic feet of grain. This mixture can be bought on the market under several trade names.

Legion Auxiliary Announces 1950 Membership Campaign

A membership campaign to give the Clement R. Bontemps Post 139 unit of the American Legion Auxiliary increased strength for its activities during the year ahead, has been launched, announced Miss Florence Finhold, unit president. It will close on November 1.

Invitations to come into the activities of the auxiliary will be given to all eligible women of this city. Those eligible for membership in the auxiliary are the wives, sisters, mothers and daughters of members of any American Legion Post, or of men who died in war service and of veterans who have died since being discharged.

Women who served in the armed service in either World War are also eligible.

More than one million veterans have returned from World War II disabled. To assure them adequate care and compensation the auxiliary needs every woman it can enroll to carry out the things which require the touch of personal interest and human understanding which no government agency can do.

Every woman who joins gives the auxiliary members additional strength for services to the veterans and for the work in support of national security and Americanism.

Miscellaneous Shower Given For Gay Gex

Mrs. N. L. Carter and Mrs. E. N. Spence entertained jointly at the home of Mrs. Carter at a miscellaneous shower complimentary to Miss Gay Gex a bride of October.

In the solarium where the honoree received her guests the decorations were Bamboo, and in the dining room the green and white color scheme was carried out. The tea table was covered with an embroidered tea cloth and an arrangement of white flowers with silver candelabra holding lighted white candles. Pouring tea were the honoree's mother and grandmother, Mrs. Walter J. Gex and Mrs. H. A. Eldredge.

W. S. C. S. Holds Meeting

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met Tuesday at the home of Mrs. E. P. Phillips in Waveland with Mrs. S. J. Mauffray and Mrs. W. W. James as co-hostesses.

The topic for study was "Our Faith" and was discussed by Rev. H. Burkin Oliver.

Three new members were enrolled in the society. They were Mrs. J. B. Snider, Mrs. T. P. Clapp and Mrs. J. H. Hirth.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses and the usual social hour was held.

From his flock of 750 chickens, John Rester of Leetown, gathered approximately 9,094 dozen eggs from January to June of this year.

SUPPLIES HEN FRUIT FOR TWENTY YEARS

John Rester of Leetown community has sold eggs to some customers for twenty years. This is the amount of time he has been in the business of supplying to people in this area one-half of that hard to beat breakfast—ham and eggs.

His flock totals 750. There are 00 Austere-White, which is a cross between an Austere-Lap and a white Leghorn. Two hundred White Leghorns and 50 Rhode Island Reds make up the rest of his flock.

Rester gives his birds 200 pounds of feed a day. Some idea of their egg production can be gotten from the fact that from January to June of this year he gathered 9,094 dozen eggs. One week he sold $128 worth of eggs to a grocer in Bay St. Louis.

All his chicks are brooded with REA current and between September 30 to March 30 he puts lights on in the hen house to fool the girls into thinking it's still daytime. This greatly increases egg production.

CLERMONT HARBOR NEWSCivic Association Members Vote Down Incorporation Of Community

By MRS. J. G. TRUETEL

UNINCORPORATED
The Clermont Harbor Civic Association held its regular monthly meeting at the school house Saturday, September 17, 1949. After considerable discussion regarding incorporating Clermont Harbor, a vote was taken and it was unanimously decided against incorporation of the community. It was also decided not to increase the annual dues of the Association.

A meeting for the purpose of organizing a youth organization for all children of the community will be held Saturday, October 8 at 7 p. m. in Rev. Sherman's yard. In case of rain the meeting will be held at Bankston's shop.

Plans will be discussed for the organization which will include children of all denominations and age groups up to and including high school.

The first project will be to erect a basketball court. Anyone interested in helping, contact Rev. Sherman or Mrs. Frances Lawton.

Clermont Harbor Methodist church celebrated World Wide communion Sunday, October 2, Rev. Bonnetcarre administering the sacrament, and Rev. Sherman officiating.

Regular services are held at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. each Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. J. Zanca and children, Jane Ann and Michael, are visiting with the J. G. Truetels. In spite of the bad weather Mr. Zanca still caught fish.

T. J. Jr. and Joycelyn Bourgeois of Creole, Miss., spent the week end with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jake Usher.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred J. Cross of New Orleans were guests at the H. L. Wesner residence. They were homeward bound from a two weeks vacation spent in Pensacola and Mobile.

Mr. J. P. Rousseau has spent several weeks in New Orleans while recovering from an operation. If improvement continues he expects to return home this coming week end.

Mrs. A. Bing and grandchildren, accompanied the Wesners on a drive to New Orleans last week end.

The Blue Jean Garden Club of Clermont Harbor, held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. A. Bing, Monday, September 26.

After the roll call and reading of the minutes, reports were given by the various committee heads. The entrance prize, a potted plant, was awarded Mrs. John Saleeby.

Plans were discussed and completed for a party to be held in place of the usual fall judging. It was decided to have it at the home of Mrs. A. Bing, Oct. 13, at 11:00 a. m. It was further decided to invite only members, with each one requested to bring a small potted plant for one of the games planned by the entertainment committee.

Among those attending were Mesdames F. O. McCoy, J. Schroth, Ben Peterson, H. Burleigh, John Saleeby, Horace Russ, J. A. Carrick, L. J. Kern, Roy Dennis, Alice Aggregard, I. J. Williams, Ola Moran, Frances Lawton and A. Bing.

WAVELAND NEWSAugust McKay, Florence Oramous Marry In New Orleans Ceremony

By MRS. H. K. HOLDERITH

Miss Florence Josephine Oramous, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Oramous of New Orleans, and Mr. August C. McKay, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. McKay of Waveland, were married Sunday, October 2, at St. Paul's Lutheran church, New Orleans. Rev. H. P. Ropes officiated.

The church was decorated with palms and baskets of white gladiolus and white carnations on the altar. The same flowers were used in the aisles.

Mr. X. J. Farnesi sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly". The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a wedding dress of ice blue satin. The beaded bodice had a scalloped neckline, and the peplum on the front of the skirt went down the back to form a train. The ice blue veil of illusion was held to the head by a beaded coronet. She carried a bouquet of tube roses centered with an orchid.

Her matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. J. Lanquette, who wore a blue satin taffeta dress with a picture ha, of the same material. She carried a basket of gold carnations.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. S. Rome and Miss Edna McKay, sisters of the groom, Mrs. Martin Murray, Mrs. Eunice Favre, and Miss Bernice Oramous. Their dresses were of gold watercrest taffeta, and they wore picture hats of the same material. The dresses were off-the-shoulder models with tight fitting bodice, and a bouffant skirt with a ruffle across the bottom of the front which met at the waist line. They carried baskets of blue carnations.

The junior bridesmaids were Kaye Rome, Sallie Saraceno and Dolores Murray. Dianne Burns was flower girl and J. B. Lanoquette, nephew of the bride was ring bearer.

The groom had as his best man, Mr. Collie Bazoni, groomsmen were Messrs. Sylvester Rome, Austin Masson, Manuel Oramous, Charles Perschall and Martin Murray, Sr. Junior groomsmen were Martin Murray, Jr., John Morgan and Jeff Perschall.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held. Mrs. L. Oramous, who was wearing a dress of black crepe with a beaded neckline, was assisted in receiving by Mrs. A. W. McKay, mother of the groom, who wore a steel grey suit with blue accessories. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Walsdorf have returned from a five-week motor trip to Hot Springs and Little Rock, Ark., and Memphis, Tenn. Among the places of interest that they visited were the home of Lum and Abner and their Jot 'Em Down Store in Pine Ridge, the Crystal Cave, the ostrich farm, Jessie James' hideout, Observation Tower on Hot Springs mountain and Lake Hamilton.

The Parents Club of Waveland School wishes to thank all who helped to make the bingo party, the proceeds of which went to the lunch room, a success. Mrs. Louise Jacob, Sr. won the silver bread tray donated by Mrs. Anna Torgerson. The members of the club are now serving 56 lunches.

Messrs. Gerald Price, Jr. and Harry Lynch were among those going to the Tulane-Georgia Tech game.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Weggman have returned in a new station wagon, from a trip to Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Scrimshaw and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph V. Colson and daughter, Ellen, left Monday by automobile for Chicago, Ill. During their absence Mrs. Lucy Mollere is in charge of the Waveland Food Mart, and Mr. Cyril Piazza is in charge of Colson's Sea Food Market.

Mr. J. B. Wilson returned from a business trip to Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Uhle and son, L. J. Jr., were over for the week end. L. J., a graduate of St. Stanislaus, class of '49, is a freshman at Southeastern Louisiana College.

Mr. E. Le Vasseur is a patient in a New Orleans hospital. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Garnet were over for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall Brauner and daughter, Nancy, spent the week end at Irish Pines. Nancy had as her guest Jeannette Gubert of New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Jube returned from San Antonio, Texas, where they spent three weeks as the guests of Mr. Jube's father, Mr. Henry Jube. Mr. Jube is manager of the H. G. Hill Store, Waveland.

Mrs. B. Berckes motored to New Orleans to be with her daughter, Mrs. S. A. Matanga, who was a patient in Hotel Dieu.

Mrs. Alfred Bourgeois celebrated her birthday with a party. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Morris Bourgeois and Mr. Wesley Bourgeois of New Orleans; Mrs. Forrest Ladner and children, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Drew and baby, and Mrs. Lloyd Bourgeois and children. Her son, Leroy Bourgeois, came from Fort Benning, Ga., for the occasion.

Col. and Mrs. Marcel A. Gillis have as their guests their son-in-law and daughter from Honolulu.

Mrs. Marie Pellegrini of New York is the guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maggio, at the latter's summer home. Many friends were on hand over the week end to visit Mrs. Pellegrini and to bid her welcome to Waveland. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Bennie W. Calabrese; Mr. and Mrs. John Ranzino; their daughter, Olive Marie, and their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Cosmo Ranzino; also Mr. and Mrs. H. Ellis and their two children, Albert James and Lucille, of Baton Rouge; Mrs. Angelina Smith, her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brodsky, came from New Orleans.

Mr. Brodsky is assistant concert master of the New Orleans Symphony Orchestra. All the guests mentioned above are nieces and nephews of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Maggio. Mr. Maggio is also a musician and plays with the New Orleans Symphony Orchestra and the New Orleans Opera.

Forty-one children enjoyed the first meal served in the new Waveland lunch room, sponsored by the Parents Club, when it opened Monday.

The rooms are brightly painted, and lunch is served on Willow Ware plates.

The teachers and school trustees were present to extend their congratulations to the ladies who have devoted so much time and effort toward this project.

Members of the club in charge of an opening day were Mesdames Virgil Meillieur, Garfield Ladner and Chester Bourgeois.

The Parents Club wishes to thank all those who have helped in any way to make this possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Herlihy had as their guests Mrs. Herlihy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tobin Underwood.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Carrere had as their guests their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ed C. Carrere, Jr., and children, Ed II, Suzanne and William.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Volrath left for a trip to Shelogan, Wis. where they will spend several weeks.

Among those going to Mobile for the Tulane-Alabama game were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald V. Price, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Favre, Jr., and Mr. W. E. Tucker.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Cologne entertained a party of friends, at their home on Coleman avenue over the week end.

Dr. and Mrs. J. Locaseo and son, Elliott, and Mr. and Mrs. B. Snelling and sons, Breezy, Jimmy and Elliott, spent the week end at Twin Oaks on the Beach.

Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Kostmeyer had with them for several days their son, Mr. J. H. Kostmeyer of New York City. Mr. Kostmeyer is associate editor of Research Institute of America.

Dr. and Mrs. Oakley C. Johnson spent the week end as the guests of Dr. George Buck at the Angel Cottage on the Beach. Other guests were Miss Mary Borjes and Miss Helen Weighman and friend, Mrs. Johnson is the former Mrs. G. Gordon Smith who lived here for several years.

Coming over for the week end to be with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Turcotte were their son, Walter, Jr., from Perkinston, and Miss Shirley Turcotte and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Schwander and children, Linda and Jackie, from New Orleans.

Forestry Service Asks For More Pine Cones

The state forestry nursery at Mount Olive is still desperately in need of pine cones from which to obtain the seed necessary to insure a sufficient crop of seedlings for next year's reforestation program.

T. V. Marlar, district forest ranger, said Friday.

"Especially do we need slash pine cones," the ranger said. "And we are paying $1.50 per bushel for them," he added.

"Within a couple of weeks we will announce the call for long leaf cones for which we will pay 75 cents per bushel," Marlar continued.

Stating that the cone supply in Mississippi is "terribly short right now," he told that state forestry officials are tapping every source in order to assure an abundant supply of seedlings for 1950 and 1951.

"If the people will collect the cones, the forestry service has facilities available for picking them up, processing them and storing them in cold storage vaults until next year," Marlar stated.

"If you have collected or will collect cones—and it's a good way to earn some money—call collect 1214-W in Gulfport or 2102 in Bay St. Louis and we will come and pick them up," the ranger declared.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS ABOUT THE FOREST

Q—How does the forest acreage compare with the area devoted to food and textile crops?
A—Forest acreage is half again larger.

Q—How much of the area of the United States is forested?
A—About one third. In a single plot American forest lands would make a tract 2,500 miles long by 387 miles wide, embracing 630,158,000 acres.

Q—What is stumpage?
A—Stumpage is merchantable standing timber intended for cutting.

Q—How does a tree grow?
A—Trees grow in length and in thickness. The tip of each twig and root produces primary tissues; all length growth occurs in this manner. Thickness growth occurs in what is called the cambium, which is a thin layer of cellular tissue between the bark and the wood.

ACCIDENT AFLOAT

Charles Hille, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hille, had several stitches in his leg as a result of an accident aboard his father's boat Sunday. It was said that the boat rolled and threw a coke bottle against Charles' leg cutting it in several places. But he is again up and back at school.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rollins spent the week end in Vicksburg where they visited Mr. Rollins' brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Rollins. They attended the horse show there which is an annual affair sponsored each year by the Vicksburg Lions Club.

G. G. Kergosien Accepts Position With Upjohn Co.

Gregory Gaines Kergosien has accepted a position with the Upjohn Drug Co. and left last week for Memphis, Tenn., where he will take a course preparatory to his taking over his territory.

Mr. Kergosien is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Kergosien of this city and is a graduate of the University of Mississippi in the class of '49.

HOME AGENTS NOTES

Home Demonstration Club Enrolls 216 Women In Hancock County

MADGE ALLRED

Hancock county is fortunate to have such an efficient, as well as attractive, Home Demonstration Agent. Madge Allred has worked long and hard to get all the women of the county enrolled in one of the ten organized Home Demonstration Clubs.

Enriched Food Need Is Cited

State College, Miss.—Pot-likker and corn bread is a combination hard to beat. The 1,000,000 bushels of corn meal consumed by Mississippians each year will take on new life, what with the new enrichment and improvement program to be launched this month by the Extension Service.

"A large percent of our people need enriched foods because of limited diets, poor eating habits, low production of needed foods, economic and other conditions which lead to malnutrition" according to State College nutritionists.

"The essential vitamins and minerals—Thiamine, Riboflavin, Niacin, and Iron—will be added to the meal as it is ground," according to J. W. Helms, Extension specialist in charge of the new state-wide corn meal enrichment program.

The State Board of Health, Experiment Station, Mississippi Home Economics Association and Mississippi Dietetic Association are supporting the project and will cooperate in the educational phase of the program.

Mr. Helms stated that the program will be started in Calhoun, Leake, Smith and Walthall counties, and other counties will be included as rapidly as possible.

Home Demonstration work has enrolled 216 women in Hancock County. The work is carried on principally through the ten organized Home Demonstration clubs. Each club meets once a month and a demonstration or discussion is given on some homemaking problem which is selected by the groups in the program planning meetings in October. Contests sponsored by the State Home Demonstration Council are open for club women to participate in. Cash awards are given to winners in these contests.

Each Home Demonstration Club has three or more officers who attend the County Council meeting which consists of all the officers of the ten clubs in the county. At the Council meetings officers obtain information and discuss problems affecting each club. The following month they are responsible for reporting such information to their community club. Officers in Home Demonstration Clubs, as in any other group have a great deal of responsibility because they serve as leaders in their community.

Another responsible position in the Home Demonstration Organization is that of the program leader. It is her duty to attend the training meeting which is held almost every month. Here she observes and participates in the demonstration to be given in her community club the following month. After attending the leader training meeting she assists the home demonstration Agent with the demonstration in her club or in the absence of the home Agent she can take over and give the demonstration for the group. There are two program leaders in each community club.

Some of the accomplishments of Home Demonstration Club work in Hancock County during 1949 are: represented at District Council meeting in Hattiesburg by fourteen delegates, represented at the State Council of State College by eight delegates, contest to enter State Cotton Dress Revue and won third place in District (South Mississippi). As a result of the demonstration this year the following have been reported: (23) twenty-three Christmas decorations, (18) eighteen chairs recaned, (2) two rugs hooked, springs tied in (4) four box cushions, (57) fifty-seven garments dry cleaned, slip covers made for (3) three chairs, and (7) seven dresses made to enter county dress revue.

During National Home Demonstration week May 1-7, three clubs had exhibits on display in the show window of local business places.

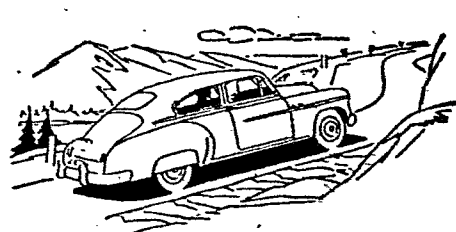

For 1950 some of the goals of Home Demonstration Work are to contact more women, organize new clubs, and do better work within the clubs in the county at the present.

L. L. Kergosien underwent a major operation last week at the Baptist Hospital New Orleans. Reports are to the effect that he will be able to be moved to his home here today.

Small Scale, Completely Electrified Skinner's Farm Is Easy To Manage

New Fish Market Planned For Main At 2nd Street

Contracts have been let for the designing and construction in Bay St. Louis of one of the most modern seafood markets in the South, according to T. T. Robin, president of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

Henry Colson, who has been in the seafood business for many years, will be the proprietor of the new establishment, he added.

NEAR NEW STORE

To be located on the east side of Scharff's new Jitney Jungle grocery store facing Main street, the building will be designed by Claude Hooten, architect of the adjacent building. C. C. Mr. Donald, Jr. has been awarded the contract for construction of the new market.

"The building will be designed from front to back strictly for the operation of a modern seafood market," Mr. Robin continued. "Every precaution is being taken to provide the last word in sanitation. The most modern equipment will be installed throughout the building including a temperature-controlled, walk-in cooler.

MODERN DESIGN

"The customers department will be terrazzo floors and white hard tile concrete with all modern facilities for the handling of seafoods, fresh and frozen," the C. of C. president concluded.

The front of the building will be plate glass.

Mr. Robin sees the erection of this new market as another indication of the "bright future" of Bay St. Louis. "We are glad to note modern buildings of a permanent type construction going up here and there in our locality," he asserted. "We hope to see more modern buildings erected by our local dealers as the occasion and need arises."

GAY GEX HONORED AT LINGERIE SHOWER

One of the many pre-nuptial affairs being given for Miss Gay Gex was the lingerie shower Wednesday at the home of Mrs. A. P. Smith, Sr., with Mrs. Edouard Carrere, Waveland, and Mrs. Jason Floyd, Gulfport, entertaining jointly with Mrs. Smith.

In the receiving line with the hostesses were Mrs. Walter J. Gex and Miss Gex who wore a white embroidered organza and a corsage of white carnations and stephanotis, presented to her by her hostesses. Her mother and grandmother, Mrs. H. A. Eldredge, were presented with sashes of yellow roses.

The color scheme of green and white was carried out in the reception rooms with white gladiolus, carnations, tube roses and asters in quantities. In the dining room the table was centered with a round arrangement of these same flowers and on the mantel was an oblong arrangement. Silver candelabra holding lighted white candles were on the table which held the bridey mints and condiments.

It doesn't take large scale operations to produce a successful farm. It does require that you get the most out of each endeavor, whether it is dairying, sheep raising or tung growing. The keynote is planning. Without that a farmer may as well take up knitting or some other occupation which requires as much foresight.

And speaking of planning, one of the nicest farms in Hancock county is the Skinner place near Leetown.

It is laid out and run so that a minimum of effort is required to do the work. Almost completely electrified, this farm produces fine poultry and cattle along with 39 acres of tung trees.

Mrs. A. M. Roy Skinner, in the absence of her husband, often runs the place by herself. Without the emphasis on planning, and the help of electrical aids, she would be over-come with work.

The brooder house is a good example of the type of well thought out project which pays off for the farmer. It has a capacity of 200 baby chicks to be raised in the dry, warm atmosphere so necessary for these fowls. Such things as sliding windows which can all be closed in one motion and heated brooder houses which are drawn up to the ceiling so as to be out of the way during the day, are features which help to produce fat, healthy chickens.

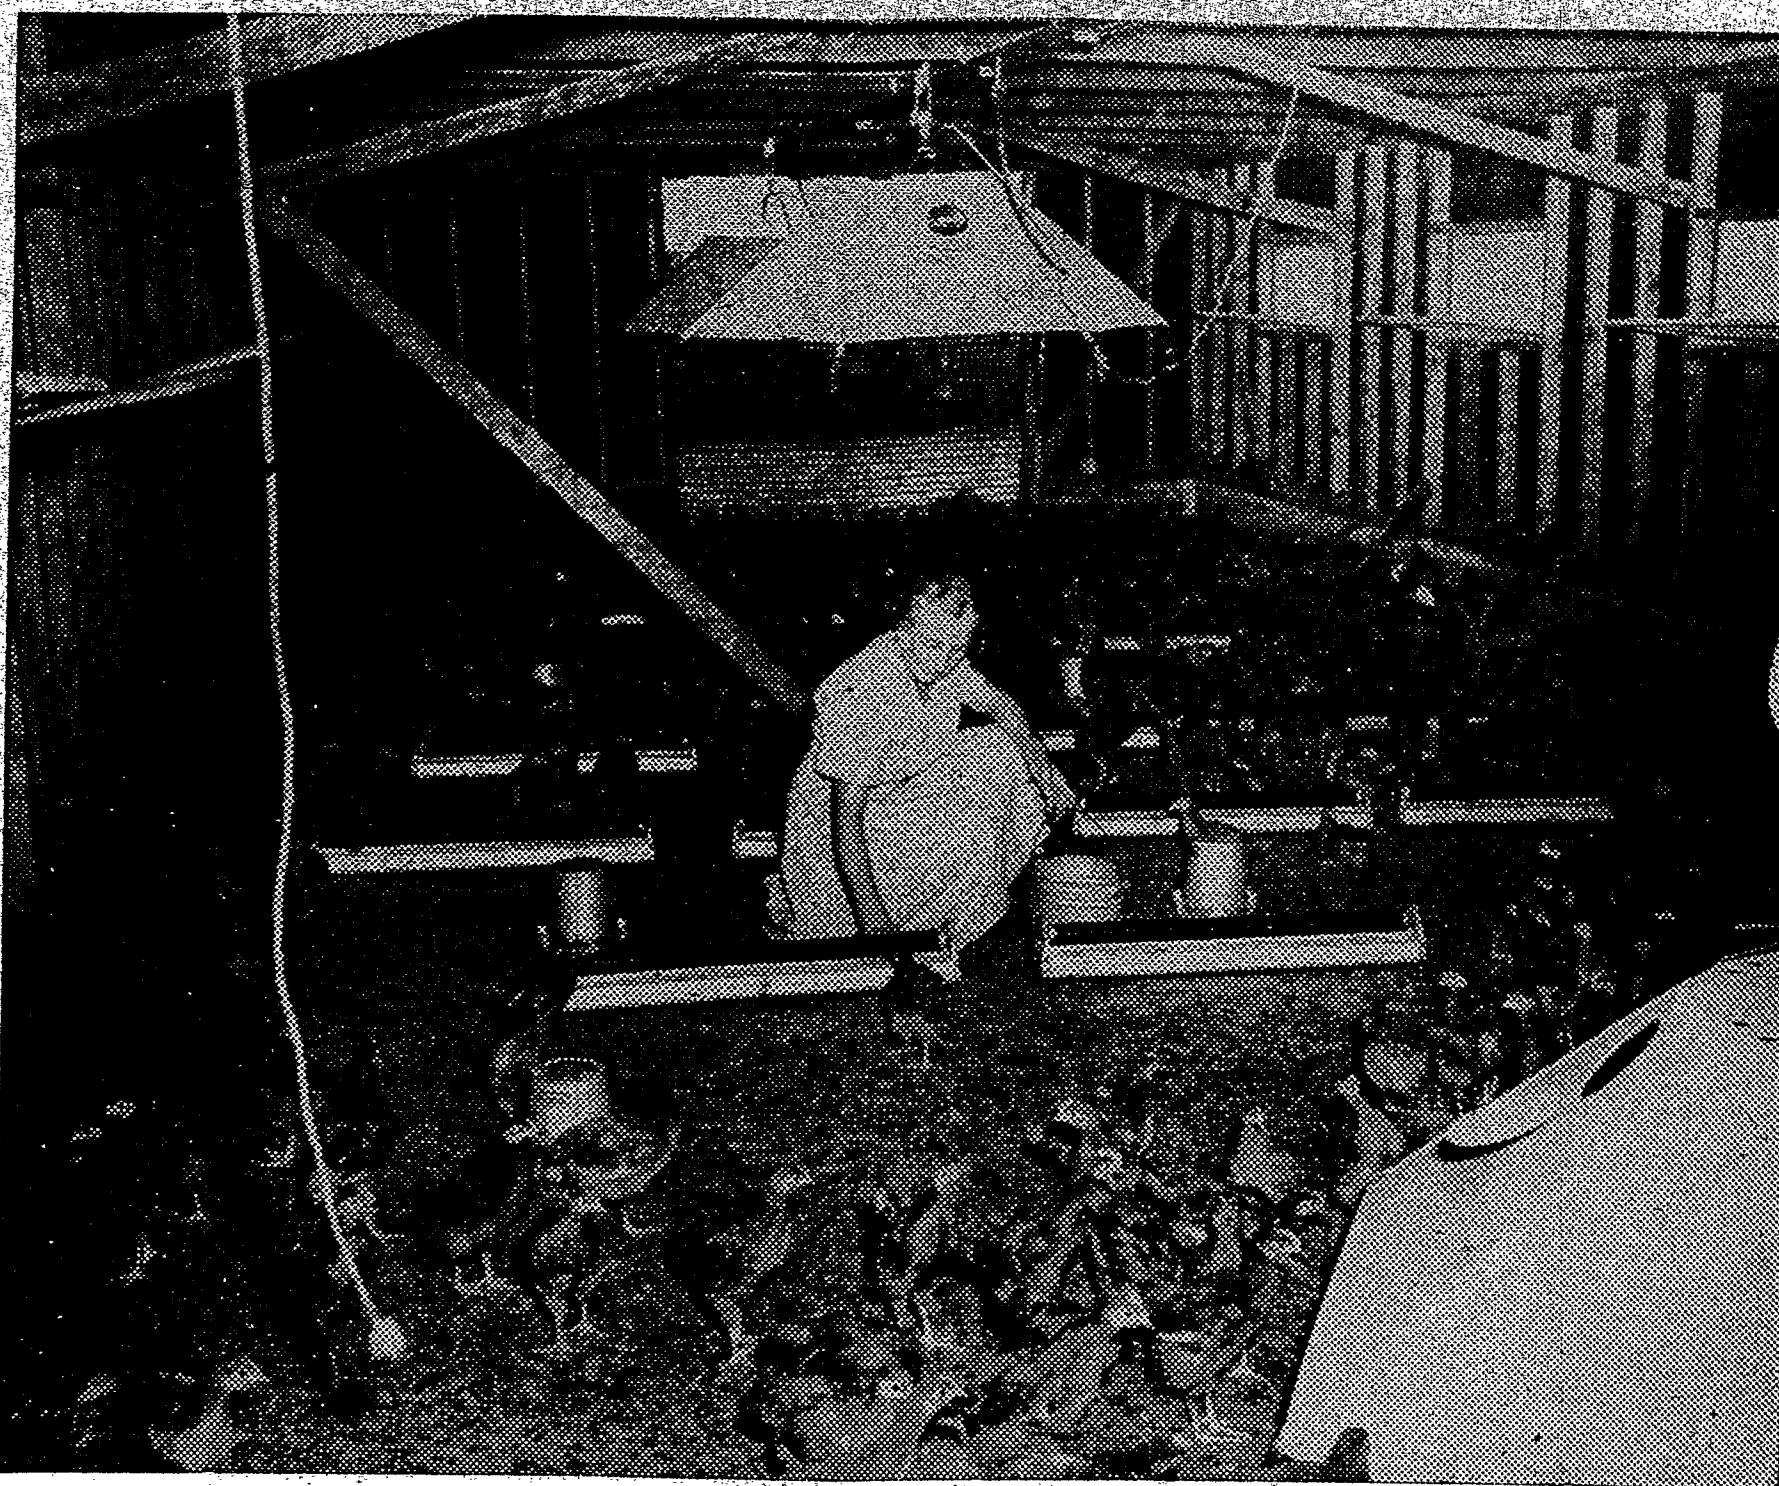

The Skinners were raising 1900 chicks when the Echo personnel stopped by to see them. They were using 1000 pounds of feed per week and expected to sell the chicks at nine weeks when they will have reached three pounds.

The cattle on the Skinner farm are registered Aberdeen Angus. It is a small herd, totaling only 10, but the breed is good and they are getting fat on 30 acres of improved pasture. This small herd was started with cattle from Joseph F. Fabacher's Riverland farm in Geismar, La.

Yes, the Skinner farm is doing well but without electricity to do many of the jobs around the place it would be a different story. There would be no milking machines, no electric fence to keep the cattle in the pasture, no heat for the brooders, no lights, running water, or household comforts such as irons, radios, sewing machines, washing machines, window fans, and others. Rural electrification makes all these things possible for the farmers.

The REA provides the electricity and it's up to the farmers to plan the best way of using it. Mr. and Mrs. Skinner follow all the agricultural practices as approved by the County Agent and the Soil Conservation Service. Mrs. Skinner is active in home demonstration work, being vice-president of the Leetown Home Demonstration club.

Barbara Dresher, a senior at Newcomb college, and Bob Dresher, who is attending the Academy of Art, returned to New Orleans this week to resume classes.

Caring for 1900 chicks is no easy job ordinarily, but for Mrs. A. M. Skinner it is no tripe at all with a completely electrified farm. Note lines of windows on both sides of the building, which can all be closed automatically, and brooder, suspended from top of chicken house, which can be lowered into place when needed.

PICAYUNE EDUCATOR STRICKEN AT GAME DIES SEPTEMBER 24

Dr. John Hopkins Napier, Jr., superintendent of city schools at Picayune, died at the Toure Infirmary New Orleans, 11:15 a. m. Saturday, September 24.

Dr. Napier suffered a heart attack at the half-time intermission of the Picayune-GCMA football game in Gulfport Friday night. He was taken to a Gulfport Hospital and later removed to the Toure Infirmary.

The funeral was held Wednesday, September 28 at 2:30 from the First Baptist church with Masonic rites at the grave. Interment was in the city cemetery at Palestine.

The body lay in state at the McDonald Funeral Home and school operations were continued until Wednesday when all schools were closed in respect to Dr. Napier. Surviving him are his wife and several young children all of Picayune.

INFANT BAPTIZED

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Pratt was baptized at the church of Our Lady of the Gulf Sunday, September 25th. Sponsors for Donald Nelson, Jr., were Miss Carolyn Ramond and Samford Green.
